

Spells for Halloween Safety

Try to Trick-or-Treat when it is still light outside. Use reflective tape on your costume.

Cross only at corners. Never cross the street between parked cars or in the middle of the block. Plan your Trick-or-Treat routes with your family. Pick streets that are well-lit.

Wear makeup instead of a face mask. Masks interfere with side vision. Have a parent, older brother or sister go Trick-or-Treating with you. Always travel in groups.

Wear a costume that makes it easy for you to walk, see and be seen. If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic.

If you must go out at night, make certain that your costume is light in color and carry a flashlight. Wait until you get home to sort, check and eat your treats.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HALLOWEEN!

Formaldehyde Plant Receives Air Permit

Members of the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission voted 7-2 in Lansing, October 17, in favor of granting Georgia-Pacific Resins, Inc. (G-P) a permit to build a formaldehyde manufacturing plant at their Beaver Creek resin plant.

Joseph Newman, manager of the Beaver Creek operation, said G-P was pleased with the outcome of the October 17 public hearing, and said construction of the new facility should begin within a month.

"We still have to get a storage permit before we can operate the formaldehyde process," Newman stated. "We will be submitting this request to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Waste Management Division in about a month."

The decision by the commission to grant the permit request came after a lengthy discussion that included testimony from the commission's air quality staff, representatives from the G-P Corporation, and representatives from various Crawford County organizations. The public hearing began at 10 a.m. and concluded at 2:45 p.m.

The DNR Air Quality Division staff recommended to grant the permit. Beaver Creek Township Supervisor John Hartman, Crawford County Commissioner Jeannette Kitchen, Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce board member Gary McLaughlin and Weyerhaeuser General Manager Rodger Anger all supported G-P's expansion project.

Roy Spangler, MSU Cooperative Extension Service, asked the commissioners to base their opinion on scientific data and not on emotionalism, but then requested that the commissioners establish an adequate monitoring program of the facility by a neutral party to insure that the air and water quality of the area are not compromised.

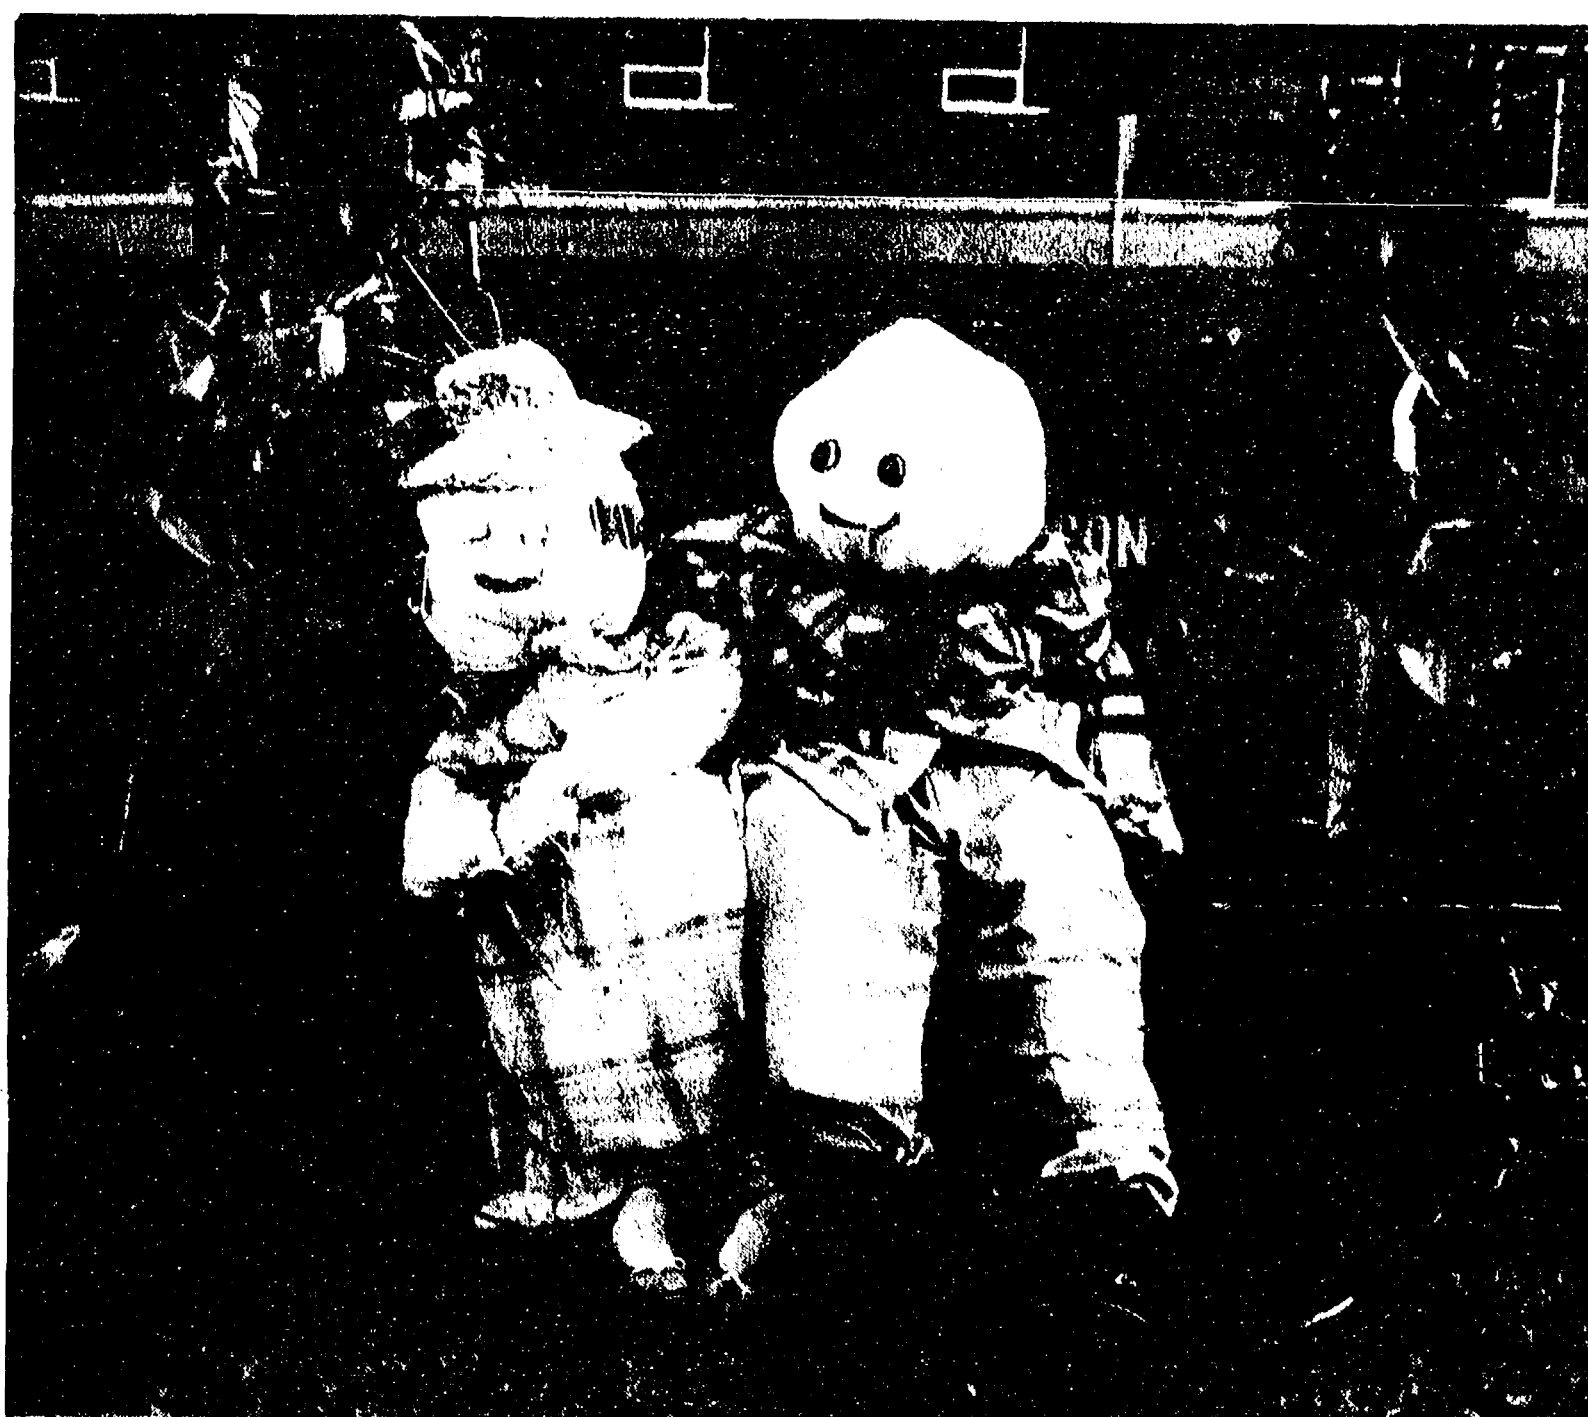

Ardon Toland, Regional Supervisor for Air Quality Control in Roscommon, said the DNR does not monitor the air around the Beaver Creek resin plant for formaldehyde. Georgia-Pacific is responsible for monitoring the emissions from its factory.

Thirteen members of AuSable Conservation Trust (ACT) and their attorney, Jim Olson, of Traverse City, spoke out in opposition of granting G-P's permit. In addition to the 155 members this group represented, they presented the commission with nearly 1100 signatures of Crawford County taxpayers who oppose the formaldehyde factory. Of those signatures over 450 were names of Beaver Creek residents.

ODOR COMPLAINTS

ACT board member, Mike Caswell, submitted 80 odor complaints from area residents collected during a recent canvass of county residents.

JUST HANGIN' AROUND -- This 'Park Bench Couple' has been spending October observing the comings and goings of Crawford County's residents from the front lawn of the Grayling City Hall.

Schools Study New Classrooms To Handle Increasing Enrollment

The Crawford-AuSable School District is fighting the proverbial "battle of the bulging classrooms," and the Board of Education has appointed a committee to look into the feasibility of constructing a new elementary school. The committee, which meets for the first time on Thursday, October 26, will make recommendations to the Board of Education in early 1990.

The official Fourth Friday student count, taken on September 29, put the district's enrollment at 1919, an increase of 42 students over the 1988-1989 school year. This total is seven students above the Board of Education's February, 1989, projection.

This annual count also revealed the continuation in the trend of larger kindergarten classes which began five years ago. For many years, the district enrolled about 135 kindergarten students annually, and grade levels six through twelve have about that number of students. In 1984 the district began enrolling the larger kindergarten classes and as a result first, second, and fifth grades have from 171 to 177 students and third and fourth grades have 153 and 159 respectively. This year's kindergarten class has 186 students.

School Superintendent Kent Reynolds said he anticipates that these larger enrollments will continue in the future, and as larger classes move up in grade levels, the high school will become filled to capacity (700 students) and the middle school building will become overcrowded (600 student capacity). He said the elementary school buildings are already overcrowded and Grayling students are being bussed to the Frederic Elementary School.

"At our current enrollment, we are already lacking three elementary classrooms for the second and third grades next year if we are going to keep class sizes at 25 students," said Reynolds, "and in 1991-92, we will need one more. I don't know where we are going to find the classrooms to house these students," he said.

In addition to these classroom needs, the district is using a portable classroom that has outlived its intended life span and will have to be replaced. Classrooms are needed for special education students through the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District and for the gifted and talented program. Three classrooms are needed for the Grayling Elementary School students who are currently being bussed to Frederic and classroom space is needed for the district's preschool program that is located at the high school. Office space is needed for the Grayling Elementary School counselor, the teacher work area is inadequate and the list continues on and on.

ONLY TWO CHOICES

At this time Reynolds sees only two solutions to the problem. The first is to add on to an existing building and the second is to construct a new elementary school.

"The Grayling Elementary School with 612 students is already too big," he said, "and the Frederic Elementary School is in the wrong location because it is too far away from the population center."

That leaves the construction of a new elementary school as the only viable solution.

To compound an already big problem, Reynolds also pointed out that next year the Grayling Middle School will be at capacity, and the following year it will be overcrowded.

"There will be a need, in about two years, to move a portion if not all of the fifth grade (six classrooms) back to an elementary school," he said.

"We were very open at the time we began the middle school construction project that we could only build the school for 600 students," said Reynolds, "and that fifth grade would not always be a part of the middle school." He said the middle school as a sixth through eighth grade building will hold until the district grows to 200 student classes.

"We have one of the most beautiful middle schools in the area," Reynolds stated, "and we do not want to overcrowd it. Overcrowding causes excess wear on a building."

What all this boils down to is the need for at least fifteen classrooms by the fall of 1991. In addition to looking for a solution to the district's bulging classrooms, the building committee will also be studying other maintenance needs of the existing buildings. Anyone interested in serving on this committee is asked to meet at the Grayling Middle School Conference room at 5 p.m. on Thursday, October 26.

River House Helps 240 Persons A Year

(In observance of Domestic Violence Awareness Month, River House Shelter presents the second of a three part series on domestic violence. This week we will discuss the services available for domestic violence victims and their dependant children living in the River House service area of Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw, and Roscommon Counties.)

By Barb Sands

Since the program began in October, 1986, River House has experienced considerable growth. At that time the only services provided by the shelter were a twenty-four hour crisis line and referrals to other shelters. Since the shelter home opened in March, 1987, the services have continuously been increased to accommodate the needs of the growing number of clients. Services now include crisis intervention, support groups, temporary shelter, transportation, advocacy, referrals and community education.

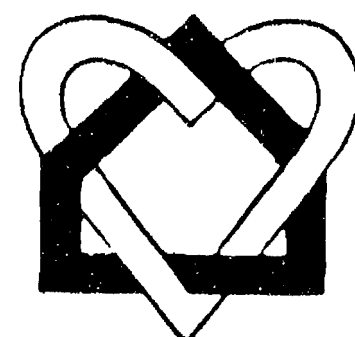

River House serves an average of 100 women and 140 children annually in both residential (in shelter) and non-residential programs. All services are available without regard to race, creed, handicap, religion, marital status, age, income level, or sexual orientation. A brief description of the services provided follows.

Crisis Line: The crisis line number is (517) 348-8972, and collect calls are accepted. The crisis line is staffed twenty-four hours a day, seven days per week. Calling the crisis line is the first step to a life of non-violence.

You do not have to be a victim of physical abuse or be in immediate danger to call the crisis line. Name calling, verbal threats, "mind

Car - Deer Accidents Continue In County

Crawford County Sheriff reports show that 39 car-deer accidents have occurred in Crawford County since October 2.

Rutting season and an increase of people in the woods because of the various hunting seasons cause the deer to move more and unfortunately for the above 39 motorists, some of this movement includes crossing the county's roadways.

According to DNR Conservation Officer Bruce Patrick, deer are especially unpredictable at this time of the year and drivers should take additional precautions when driving, particularly at night.

Pipeline Addition Slated in County

Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company will soon begin construction of a pipeline loop to its existing natural gas pipeline in northwestern Crawford County in Frederic Twp.

This 2.5 mile loop line, beginning at the Deward Meter station and heading south, is part of a 177 mile expansion project that will increase the pipeline's capacity by 157.5 million cubic feet per day.

In order to minimize any environmental disruption, the pipeline loop will be installed adjacent and parallel to the existing Great Lake's mainline.

Construction is to begin in late October, 1989, and continue through November or December, depending on the weather. Some cleanup and seeding may have to be completed in the spring of 1990.

The expansion project is a result of requests from Southeastern Michigan Gas Company, near Battle Creek, TransCanada Pipelines Limited and Midland Cogeneration Venture/POCO Petroleum Ltd., to provide additional natural gas transportation capacity.

Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company currently pays $108,000 property tax annually in Crawford County. The new construction will increase this amount by $12,000.

Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company transports Canadian natural gas through a 1,300 mile pipeline for delivery to customers in the United States and eastern Canada.

Enjoys Halloween Decorations Here

Dear Jon,
I can't get any response writing antagonistic letters, so I'll try a nice one. (Actually, I've been going to do this for 2 years.)

I don't know what organization is responsible, but I've only seen ladies doing the work. The "ghosts" I've seen hanging around town the past couple years are the best. Halloween decorations I've seen put out by any town. I don't see them this year, but I hope they come back!

Also I enjoy the white Christmas lights on Michigan Avenue businesses. I hope they extend them to old US-27 (or I-75 Business Loop, or whatever you call it).

I appreciate officer Patrick's weekly articles. I don't like a lot of what he says, but I'm glad somebody is telling us about the changes in the hunting/fishing regulations.

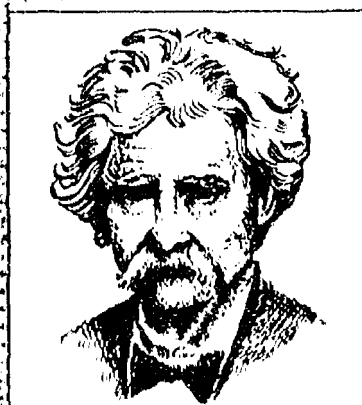

I wish the Sheriff's office would put something along the same line. How many of you readers know the law concerning use of turn signals? In my observations, I think if there is one of you out of a hundred, it's about right. I read the law about 15 years ago and if I remember right, you're supposed to turn your turn signal on at least 100 yards before you make a turn, and it makes no difference if there is a car in sight or not.

How many times have you pulled up behind a car on Old 27 and Michigan at the red light, and after the light turns green the driver will switch on his left turn signal? Come on Harold, get one of your people to start a column!

WE care. That's why we are out there on the weekends in all kinds of weather, to serve coffee, tea, donut holes, cookies and orange drink to the motoring public free of charge.

It's worth it when we hear: "Oh, how nice of you," this is great," "thanks a lot, you made our day," "people up north are so good to us," "Mommy is this cookie really free," "what a God send you are."

We hear this and much more but the people in town that donate some of our supplies don't get to hear this so I would like anyone who reads this to go tell this business and tell them "Thanks a lot from everyone."

Reagan Visit Impresses Former Grayling Resident

(The following is a letter from T/Sgt. Thomas Feldhauser to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Feldhauser, about a visit from former president Ronald Reagan to the Edwards Air Force Base to view the B-2 bomber)

Dear folks,

Here is the article from the base paper. Mr. Reagan was about an hour late getting to base and the B-2 secure area, so of course lunch was cold. The hamburgers and polish sausage was almost as cold as the potato salad. The former President told a few jokes, talked of early days of flight when ten dollars would buy ten minutes in the back seat of an old barnstormer. Mr. Reagan shared his views on the need of a strong military, the B-2, nuclear disarmament and the continued involvement of the two super-powers to find solutions to world problems other than military intervention.

I was talking to one of the bodyguards who was sitting with our table. He told us of how much of a cut-up Ronnie is. He said, at the ranch a few days before security was conducting a full scale rehearsal for any emergency situation.

The helicopter that was being used would not lower the last fifty feet or so, and nobody could convince the pilot to set down. So this bodyguard, who happened to be standing next to Mr. Reagan heard him say, "I'll get him to come down," and with that the former President grabbed his chest and toppled over! The guard said all hell broke loose. The bodyguards got all around him, the helicopter pilot dropped the bird like a rock, and as this guard knelt down beside his boss, Ronnie opened one eye and said, "Is the S.O.B. down yet?" The bodyguard said Ron has a great sense of humor and is always clowning around and playing to what ever audience is near.

Mr. Reagan was presented with a hand carved plaque of the B-2 which will hang in the oval office of President Bush. The Air Force pilot and Northrop pilot gave him a signed picture of the first flight. With that the lunch was over and it was time to go back to work. Mr. Reagan was extremely impressed with the B-2 and went back for another look at it.

All in all I was very impressed with the whole affair. I had the 40th President of the United States entertaining me with jokes, the world's first and foremost technologically advanced airplane to date on my left. One of the hottest fighters in the military, (which we use as a chase plane), to my left rear and on my right rear we have a one of a kind KC-135 rigged up with all sorts of electronic gear. Sitting or standing listening to the Ex-President were people from most if not all the fifty states including many of the trust territories. A few of these folks have only had their U.S. citizenship for several years.

This all made me think of the crying

Pollyannas who don't want the guard in Grayling. I don't believe they realize how much most of us would rather go home. God knows why we stay in the service, damn few people seem to appreciate a strong well trained military until the need for them arises and then they will be the first to scream at the politicians.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Mr. Henry Ward (who I believe to be a grandson of David Ward) was the man who had the dream of turning the Frederic area into a major apple and fruit producing area. He had an orchard of 740 acres planted on the hill just east of Frederic. There were also 40 acres of asparagus and feed raised to support the livestock in use there.

Mr. Eli Forbush was placed in charge of the orchard operation. He owned an 80 acre farm on the east side of the orchard. Mr. Forbush was experienced in horticulture and soon had the operation in place with 65,000 apple, plum, cherry and pear trees. The apples were the main crop and in the year 1909, 4,220 barrels were harvested. The apple yield continued to increase as the orchard matured.

Mr. Ward had planned to build a cannery in Frederic to bolster the orchard operation and to provide work for local people. Another orchard called the AuSable Fruit Farm was soon trying to cash in on fine fruit grown in the area. The Ward Orchard provided many jobs for local men and was a going thing until the start of the depression. Then the Orchard like many other companies had to fold up. But it was not a total loss for Ward's Orchard continued to provide apples to help folks make it through those terrible depression days. Mr. For-bush moved back onto his farm and lived there until his death. Otis and Alice Weaver took over the care of the orchard and lived there until the land was taken over by the state and the buildings destroyed.

I've often wondered if the depression had not occurred, would there now be prosperous orchards and a cannery to bolster the economy of Crawford County?

There have been many attempts to find some way to make the lands of Crawford County pay off in some way. I remember back in 40 or 41 the Shull Ranch from down by Clare leased all the Ross and Wentworth estate property north and west of Frederic and had 10,000 sheep shipped in to graze there. They put in miles and miles of fence to hold the sheep. But in doing so they fenced off many roads and trails that folks used to reach their favorite berry patches. Well, sheep raising became very unpopular with a lot of folks. Some folks said lamb chops were pretty good and a lot easier to get than venison. That fall they shipped the sheep out and tore down the fences. That was the end of large scale sheep ranching in Crawford County.

Now with the oil wells and natural gas they have at last managed to make our cut over land pay again. What will be the next? Perhaps making one gigantic waste dump of the northland will be in the cards.

Notes from the Woods

The babies were ubiquitous, for a few days at least. Their darling little bodies matched their equally darling names: Courtney, Mercedes, Nadia, Sondra for the girls. Brett Jr., Forest and Sheldon Joseph for the boys.

Their parents -- all single mothers and one single father -- carried them gingerly and proudly through the halls of the high school.

Their lovely yet functional miniature baby outfits had been chosen with love. All were covered tenderly with blankets or afghans, some homemade by mother or grandma.

Their bassinets -- of every conceivable type from basket to ceramic -- were works of art. They were brightly colored, decorated with bows and ribbons, adorned with mobiles.

They went to classes with their parents, where they lay peacefully, sleeping and dreaming of whatever it is that newborns dream of while moms and dads conjugated verbs, figured square roots or discussed the causes of World War I.

They were not all normal babies. Several parents had twins. One had triplets, whom she named Brandy Lee, Cody Lee and Jordan Lee. Some babies were born with handicaps, physical or mental. One, abused as a newborn, was adopted. Yet whatever the circumstances, most of the young parents coped well.

The babies were all beautiful. Even the homely ones were beautiful. For it is beautiful to be a baby, with your whole life spreading out in front of you. You're a little bundle of potential, capable of doing nearly anything with yourself -- if the right chain of events occur. If, for example, you are fortunate enough to be born to the right parents.

I'm not even certain exactly what makes "the right parents." Certainly loving people. Enlightened ones. Caring. Giving. Willing to sacrifice. Hardworking.

Learning about some of those realities of parenthood is what brought the teenaged parents and their tiny little babies -- "eggbles," actually -- together for five days in September at the high school.

eggle simulation for the students in her child development course. From Thursday through Monday, they were parents. Little hard-boiled eggs were their babies.

Like any parents of newborns, they were required to keep their babies with them constantly -- or provide a babysitter. "Having a baby was a lot of responsibility," said one mom. You can't just go off and do what you want. I had to find a babysitter when I went to my basketball game.

In some cases, grandma and grandpa were called in to sit with the newborns. Other times, eggle was turned over to a trusted friend. But most of the time, baby stayed with mommy or daddy.

"I learned what it's like to have a baby around constantly," added another. "A pain. I couldn't do what I usually do, like going to the movies, without taking it with me."

Said a maternal type: "You don't trust anyone at school with (the baby)." This same young mom sent out birth announcements and held a shower in class. Every evening, she says, she bathed her eggbles, rocked them gently, then put them to bed in their cribs.

Not all babies were treated so gently. The mother of triplets Brandy, Jordan and Cody dropped two of them. But a trip to the pediatrician (Mr. Mills, the sociology instructor) and some basic medical treatment (band-aids) saved them.

Another mother went to her own bedroom one evening, neglecting her baby by leaving him in the family's kitchen. Grandma and grandpa sent her a grim message: When she went downstairs the next morning, little Brett was lying in a frying pan on the stove.

Not all of the babies survived the five-day simulation. A bit of carelessness, a stroke of bad luck, a moment of inattention, or perhaps simply a baby born with a weak constitution, and a split second later -- like Humpty Dumpty -- the baby was no more.

One young mother explained that her baby girl had been kidnapped.

A friend forced her to acknowledge reality: "No, you know that your babysitter dropped her, then just told you she had been kidnapped."

"The hardest job on earth is being a mother," asserts Dr. Lella Denmark, one of the oldest practicing pediatricians in the United States in a recent Parade magazine interview. "It should be the best educated job. I never ask a woman to be a mother if she doesn't want to. A lot of women shouldn't be mothers."

No doubt some of the child development students would agree with Dr. Denmark. "I learned responsibility," said one. "They occupy all of your time and thoughts."

"I had to take that kid everywhere I went," complained another. "I'm not used to that. I'm used to my freedom. My mom wouldn't babysit."

"I definitely don't want kids until my 30th birthday," said another. Added one jokingly: "I told my mother I want a hysterectomy for my 18th birthday."

Some hard lessons learned in a relatively easy way. They experienced a taste of parenthood for five days, then tossed their little eggbles away, a luxury real parents do not have.

If parenthood is the most important (and most challenging) job in the world, then child development is probably the most important class we offer at the high school.

As a society, we require workers in nearly every occupation to show competency or pass certification tests before practicing in a field. Yet we behave as if we assume that the ability to give birth is sufficient training for the multi-faceted, ultra-important job of parenthood.

Maybe we should take a long, hard look at what we deem important. Maybe we should make our kids sign up for child development class. Maybe -- like the home economics instructors, the pediatricians, and the eggbles' parents -- we better realize that it takes a lot more to be a parent than the ability to have a baby.

The folly of tax and spend

By Lawrence Reed

Nearly four decades before the birth of Christ, the Roman orator Cicero offered this sound advice: "The budget should be balanced, public debt should be reduced, the treasury should be rebuilt, the arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled, and assistance to foreign lands should be curtailed, lest Rome fall."

Well, the Romans didn't take his advice and guess what? Rome fell.

At more than $2 trillion our government's "national debt" represents an ominous recurrence of just what Cicero warned of 20 centuries ago. If figures that large mean little to you, let's put it another way. If the national debt were in $1 bills, it would stack half way to the moon, fill 282,730 dump trucks, weigh as much as 1.14 million Oldsmobile Cutlasses, or buy enough food to feed the current population of Los Angeles for 678 years.

Government in ancient Rome grew to a mammoth size for some of the same reasons ours has. The philosopher George Santayana may have had that in mind when he said, "Those who ignore history are condemned to repeat it." Consider the following:

Long before Christ, a Roman politician named Clodius was elected to public office on a platform of "free wheat for the masses." When Julius Caesar came to power he found 320,000 persons in Rome -- a city of some 1 million -- on government grain relief.

Emperor Nero once declared, "Let us tax and tax again! Let us see to it that no one owns anything!" He may also have been the architect of the first urban renewal program. He burnt a large portion of Rome to make way for a number of construction projects.

A few years later, another emperor dabbled in farm policy. To reduce production and raise the price of wine, he ordered the destruction of half of the vineyards in Rome's provinces.

The ancient government assumed the responsibility of providing the people with publicly-funded entertainment and arts programs. One historian estimates the modern equivalent of $100 million a year was poured out on circuses and gladiator duels alone.

Welfare statists loved it in 274 A.D. when Emperor Aurelian made the right to relief hereditary and boosted welfare benefits considerably.

Businesses were pulverized under a burden of public hostility and excessive taxation and regulation. The masses demanded their handouts and the most productive in Roman society were made to cough up. Some of them, thinking they were buying time, actually supported those politicians and funded those institutions which were dedicated to their very destruction. What was left of their businesses was eventually confiscated and nationalized.

City administrations within the empire spent themselves silly and, beginning with the Emperor Hadrian, were bailed out through a kind of "federal revenue sharing," with lots of strings attached. (After all, he who pays the piper sooner or later calls the tune.)

Spending to satisfy special interests and a soaring debt

prompted the government to debase the national currency. It imposed wage and price controls, seized the people's gold holdings, took the silver out of the coinage and manufactured junk money like there was no tomorrow. And for Rome, there wasn't.

If the national debt were in $1 bills, it would fill 282,730 dump trucks ...or buy enough food to feed the current population of Los Angeles for 678 years.

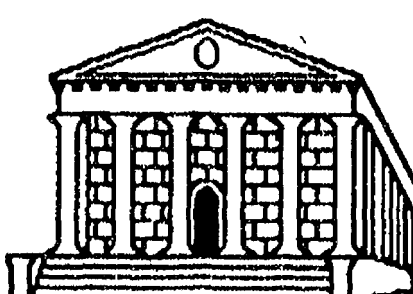

The great empire expired in 476 A.D. It fell like a ripe plum to foreign enemies. When the barbarians walked into the city, many Romans actually welcomed them in the belief that anything was better than the tyranny of their own tax collectors and regulators.

It has been said that many civilizations have run their course by this pattern: from bondage to individualism to great courage to liberty to abundance, then from abundance to complacency to apathy to dependency and finally back to bondage again.

More to the point, what is called "Kershner's First Law" sums up what happened to Rome pretty well: "When a self-governing people confer upon their government the power to take from some and give to others, the process will not stop until the last bone of the last taxpayer is picked bare."

But as we all know, it can't happen here.

(Larry Reed is President of The Mackinac Center, a pro-enterprise public policy research institute headquartered in Midland.)

G-P Formaldehyde Plant

"I did not expect to come back to Grayling victorious as far as the permit was concerned," said ACT President Linda Caswell. "But I did expect to have the concerns I took to the hearing treated with respect."

"It was audacious to me," she stated, "that the DNR claimed that they did not know that there was an odor problem in Beaver Creek. It's their job to know whether there is a problem with the air."

"Further," Caswell continued, "when the commissioners learned there was an odor problem, as duly appointed members of the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission, they should have postponed granting the permit until an investigation determined the source of the odors. That is covered under the Air Quality Law."

"The DNR said people with odor complaints should contact them," said Debbie Golden, ACT vice-president. "The majority of the 'people' out there are elderly, ill, some have no phones, they do not know the process for making complaints, some cannot read or write, and the DNR wants them to work through the system. They don't even know what the system is."

DNR TO INVESTIGATE

Toland said his department would be investigating the validity, nature and character of the odor complaints submitted by ACT.

Caswell and Golden said besides ignoring the odor complaints they were dissatisfied with the proceedings because the commissioners did not order a total cumulative air assessment. They also objected that the commissioners did not hold their public hearing in Crawford County.

Commissioner Jan Wilson, representing local government, made a request to hold a separate public hearing on the G-P permit request in Crawford County, but the motion failed, 5-4, on the basis that Tuesday's presentations were sufficient, and that no additional information would result from a separate public hearing.

EMISSION LEVELS

Toland said the commissioners granted the permit because the new formaldehyde process would not cause an increase in formaldehyde emission levels above what the plant is currently emitting.

"Actually," said Toland, "the emissions from the G-P plant, what they will be allowed to emit under the new proposal, will be less than the background levels already in the air." Toland said background formaldehyde can come from a variety of sources such as automobile exhaust, woodburning stoves, and other manufacturing facilities.

Caswell said at the public hearing Commissioner Dr. Richard E. Honicky, a licensed Doctor of Medicine, experienced in toxicology of air contaminants, stated there is no way to measure what the ambient air emissions from the formaldehyde plant will be until the plant is built.

"His next sentence was 'So let's build it and see,'" said Caswell, "but by then it will be too late for the residents of Crawford County, some of whom are already experiencing foul odors because of the plant's emissions."

"What are the commissioners going to do once the formaldehyde plant is operational?" asked Golden. "Are they going to tear down the plant? Are they going to stop operation?"

"So many people who were against the formaldehyde plant told me they would not help ACT with money or time because it is an exercise in futility," said Golden. "They said it had already been decided, that we were only spinning our wheels, that G-P already had their permits. And do you know what?" she asked. "They were right. The citizens of this state have no recourse against big business."

Toland summed up the G-P situation by saying "If a plant is using a product that has to be shipped in, the potential exists that as the profit picture changes, the company will take whatever measures necessary to keep its product cost effective, even if that means increasing production or cutting costs by manufacturing the shipped product on site." He said as long as these businesses comply with environmental regulations, there is little that can be done to stop their growth.

games", and destroying household or personal items are all forms of domestic violence. Please call, even if you just need to talk to someone and don't want to stay at the shelter. Doing nothing at all encourages the cycle of violence to continue. All information given to staff or volunteers on the crisis line is confidential.

Support Groups: Support groups for victims and their dependant children are held on Mondays from 6 to 8 p.m. and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to noon. Adult support group meetings provide an opportunity for victims to talk about their situation and feelings and discuss options available by participating in group discussions with other domestic violence victims. Children's support group meetings also consist of time to discuss feelings, as well as structured activities such as crafts and games.

Support group meetings are open to both resident and non-resident clients. If you are not a shelter resident, but you would like to come to support group, please call the shelter first to schedule an intake appointment with the client advocate.

Temporary Shelter: River House Shelter can house up to sixteen women and children (male victims are provided safe housing separate from the shelter home). The shelter home provides temporary housing for victims, allowing them time to consider options and plan for their future while living in a safe place.

If you need safe housing, you must call either the crisis line ((517) 348-8972), or the business line ((517) 348-3169) to make arrangements. To insure the safety of the shelter staff and residents, the location of the shelter is not given to the general public. You will be given instructions when you call.

Transportation: River House will provide transportation to bring victims to shelter at any time of day or night. Transportation will also be provided to appointments for shelter residents.

Advocacy: River House clients are encouraged to decide what is best for themselves and their families. The staff of River House Shelter does not make decisions for clients. We are here to provide emotional support and information about the dynamics of domestic violence.

Each client is presented options available, (for example: counseling, legal advice, or various support groups). The client will choose from these options and will then be referred to agencies that can best help them with their needs. Some of the agencies are the Department of Social Services, legal referrals, and medical or counseling services.

River House also provides services to the community through educational programs. Staff members provide information about domestic violence and the shelter program for schools, churches, and service clubs. Requests for information or speakers should be directed to the Outreach Coordinator at (517) 348-3169.

There are no fees for the services provided by River House. The program is funded through the Department of Social Services, various grants, federal funds, United Way, and private contributions.

In part three River House will discuss how interested individuals, church groups, and community organizations can assist River House.

Almanac

By Richard Millman
Avalanche President

Inaction probably was best.

Sometimes it seems the man in charge simply can't win for losing.

Consider President George Bush and the recent ill-fated Panamanian coup attempt designed to overthrow strongman Gen. Manuel Noriega.

The coup fizzled. The United States did not intervene militarily, although a few thousand troops were in the neighborhood. And President Bush is taking it on the chin in many quarters for keeping American hands off.

Michigan Rep. Bill Broomfield from Oakland County ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee and usually a strong Bush backer -- said that lack of strong direct American action meant our country "blew it."

The Detroit "News" editorial column -- another usual Bush backer in most matters -- didn't think much of the President's role in the Panamanian affair. Mr. Bush, opined the News editorially, "simply wimped out on this one."

More liberally oriented voices, of course, also were heard baying in the anti-Bush chorus. Most editorial columnists were critical, as were congressional critics as varied as conservative Republican Sen. Jesse Helms and liberal Democrat Sen. John Kerry.

THERE IS NO UNANIMITY on what should have been done -- except the rather vague "something."

Perhaps an invasion, such as in Grenada. Maybe some sort of bombing, such as in Libya. Maybe we should have taken over the whole coup attempt, and installed our own puppets. Maybe we should have been covert, but still controlling, in the ouster of Gen. Noriega.

Maybe we should have brought Noriega to the United States and put him in jail on the drug charges for which he is under indictment here. Maybe we should have imprisoned him in Panama. Maybe we should have booted him out of Panama, into exile somewhere, but not in Panama and not in the U.S. Maybe we should have helped slay him, under the premise that the best dictator is a dead one.

Maybe he should have helped the rebels, short of taking over the whole coup attempt, and hoped that the successor government was to our liking. And then, if it proved to be just as bad as the Noriega regime, what then? Another coup?

ONE THING WE should have learned as a nation from recent history -- such as in Vietnam and Nicaragua -- is that if we're going to get involved, we better win. Would that have been possible with the circumstances as they unfolded in Panama?

From the reports made public so far, the coup attempt -- although apparently well motivated -- seemed woefully planned and poorly executed.

Apparently Gen. Noriega for several hours was held captive by the dissidents. They argued about what to do with him -- turn him over to the United States military, keep him under guard, kill him, or whatever.

While these arguments raged, Gen. Noriega is reported to have stepped into another room at his headquarters, and telephoned for reinforcements to quash the rebellion... which, of course, is exactly what happened.

With leadership illustrated by such developments as this one, it's no wonder the rebellion against Gen. Noriega failed. It was doomed from the start.

The next one -- and there certainly will be a next one -- may not. At that time, perhaps some other course of action by the United States may be proper.

AMERICANS ARE AN action-oriented people. We lust for decisiveness. We want a dispute resolved, one way or another. We abhor a vacuum.

We like to see things in black and white, without regard to tones of gray.

If there's a war going on somewhere, the American tendency is to choose up sides and do whatever we can to see that the good guys -- at least, as we perceive the guys to be good -- come out on top.

But in some cases, the best action may be no action at all. That's tough for most Americans to accept; but it's beginning to look more and more like that's the way it was in the great Panamanian revolt of 1989.

Ever wonder why quarterbacks in football are called "quarterbacks"? Although most quarterbacks today stand either right under center, or back deep in the shotgun formation, in the early days of football, quarterbacks lined up a QUARTER of the way back between the line and the fullback. In those days, halfbacks stood half way back and fullbacks lined up in the deepest position. But with the coming of the T-formation, quarterbacks moved from their "quarter back" position. However, we still call them quarterbacks.

Of all the field goal kickers in National Football League history, which one kicked the most field goals in one season? The record is held by Ali Haji-Sheikh who kicked 35 for the Giants in 1983.

The fastest-growing sport in America today, according to several marketing reports, is golf. They say the number of golfers in the U.S. rose from about 17-million in 1985 to more than 23-million last year, an increase of about 40%. Some 2,000 new golf courses are expected to be built in the nation in the next 10 years.

POWER OFFENSE -- The Saints scored four times to take a 26-7 half time lead.

JV's Shut Down St. Ignace 12-0

Don Baker ran 65 yards for Grayling's first touchdown and the Vikings' defense shut out St. Ignace in a 12-0 win last Thursday in the upper peninsula. Aaron Raymond and Mark Brannan combined for an odd 10-yard pass play for Grayling's other touchdown. Raymond threw a forward lateral that went over Brannan's head. Other players stopped, thinking the ball was dead. Brannan recovered it for a touchdown.

Both Viking touchdowns came in the first half. Meanwhile, Grayling was throttling St. Ignace, holding them to no first downs in the first half.

When St. Ignace did threaten in the second half, Scott Hartman hit a ballcarrier on the one-yard line and Gary Schroyer recovered the fumble caused by the hard hit.

The Vikings missed both point-after attempts when an end run and a pass failed.

Coach Fred Wolcott said the Vikings just missed on a couple of long passes that could have been touchdowns.

Grayling plays Gaylord here Thursday night in the last game of the year. Wolcott says Gaylord, who only has 18 players, is 8-0 and has been beating teams by 30, 40, and 50 points.

Grayling is going to go all out to win this one. Wolcott said because most people aren't expecting the game to be close.

Viking Rally Falls Short Against St. Ignace

The Vikings gave up four touchdowns in the first half to a powerful St. Ignace team last Friday, October 20, but rallied in a losing effort to play one of their best third quarters of the season. St. Ignace went on to win, 40-20, in a game that was closer than the score indicates.

"They owned us during the first half," said Don Stowers, head coach of the Vikings. "Their offensive line was just too big and strong for us, although we came back and had a chance to win."

Grayling scored their first touchdown in the second quarter on a two yard run by Dana Mirate. A 55 yard pass from Matt Branch to Tim Hough to the two yard line set up the Mirate touchdown. The extra point by Andy Eriksson was good, making the half-time 26-7.

In the third quarter St. Ignace kicked off to Grayling, and it took Grayling only three plays to score on a 52 yard pass from Branch to Mick McKinney. The extra point was good and the score was 26-14.

Grayling scored again on a 42 yard run by McKinney midway in the third quarter. The extra point was no good and Vikings pulled within 6 points of St. Ignace, 26-20.

Two Viking fumbles late in the fourth quarter, which St. Ignace converted into touchdowns, proved to be the deciding factor in the gridiron contest.

"Even though we have only won two conference games, we are still fourth in total offense in league play," said Stowers.

"Petosky is the offensive league leader with 172 points, Cheboygan has 166, Charlevoix 118, and Grayling has 117."

Defensively, Stowers said Nate Ginther, Pat Gizinski and Frank Hartwick played good games.

John Lamie made several key tackles to help the Viking defense hold the Saints' offense from scoring.

Offensively, Tim Hough, Mick McKinney, Frank Hartwick, Jeff Edinger, Max Prosser and Nate Ginther all turned in excellent efforts.

"Jim Abney made a beautiful catch in the third quarter," Stowers said. "He stretched out and barely caught it."

Stowers said Matt Branch turned in an excellent game.

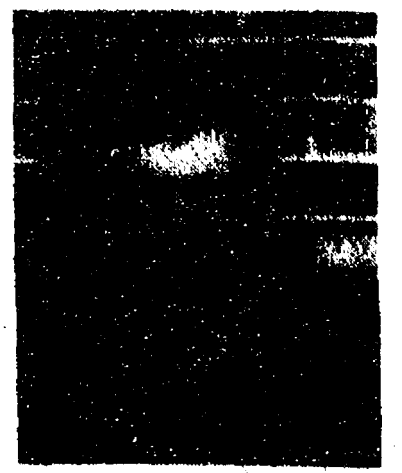

"Matt can throw the ball as good as anyone in our league, just pure passing," he said. "He also plays defense, and we are very pleased with his effort."

"Offensively, I think we are doing the right things," stated Stowers. "Defensively we are not real large or strong, but as a team, we are improved over last year. Even when we were behind 26-7 at half time our team did not give up," he said, "but fought back to bring the game within reach which is a good indication of character."

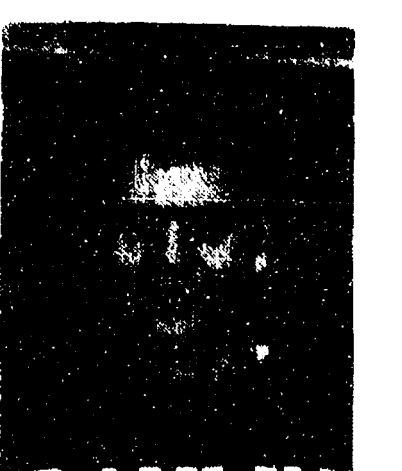

The Vikings will be traveling to Gaylord this Friday for their last game. Gaylord is always a challenge, and with the league's leading scorer in Rance Charboneau, with 8 touchdowns to his credit, the Viking defense will have to be tough.

Grayling Knocks Soo Out of 1st Place

The varsity girls' 54-42 victory over Sault Ste. Marie last Thursday, October 19, knocked the Soo out of their tie for first place leaving Gaylord alone in the highly coveted position.

"This makes things interesting," said Howard Lehti, coach of the girls basketball team. "Gaylord has one loss and the Soo and Grayling have two losses each. Gaylord and the Soo play on Tuesday night," he said, "and if the Soo wins, there will be a three-way tie for first place."

"Our defense proved to be the difference in the ball game," said Lehti. "Our press kept them off most of the evening."

The Blue Devils came on the floor and immediately took a 10 point lead. Lehti called a timeout, and when play resumed, Grayling began to take control of the game's tempo by their press, their fast break and their rebounding.

The score by quarters reflects the closeness of the game for the first three quarters. At the end of the first quarter the Soo was leading, 15-14, and retained this one point lead at half time, 25-24.

Throughout the game, Lehti could be heard telling his team, "You can beat this team."

By the end of the third quarter Grayling had taken the lead, 34-35, and the fourth quarter belonged to Grayling.

"The Soo is used to scoring 58 points a ball game," stated Lehti, "and it was a feat in itself to keep the first place team down to 42 points."

Grayling shot 50 percent from the foul line, 11 for 22, and the Soo shot 10 for 18.

Lehti said Nikki Morrill played her best week of basketball this season. She led her team in scoring with 20 points, 9 rebounds and 2 assists. Heather Stephenson had 14, 4 rebounds, 7 assists; Melanie Ojala 13, 6 rebounds, 7 assists; Nikki Trenary 3, 9 rebounds, 4 assists; Michelle Burcham 2, 3 rebounds; and Claudine Allen 2, 1 rebound and 1 assist.

"Teams are seeing a different Grayling from what they saw the first time around," stated Lehti. "The entire coaching staff is proud of the way the team is coming together and playing the quality of basketball they have been capable of playing all year."

On Tuesday, October 17, the girls had an easier time at Rogers City, winning 54-31. Both teams started off sluggishly as the first quarter score, 11-8 indicates. But the second quarter saw Grayling come alive as they increased their 3 point lead to 25 points at half time, 39-14. Third quarter score was 49-24.

"We did not press during the first quarter at all," said Lehti, "but we came out in the second quarter and tried to pressure the guards a little more and we were much more successful in controlling the tempo of the ball game."

Nikki Morrill was high scorer with 17 points, 3 rebounds and 3 assists. Michelle Burcham followed with 12, 7 rebounds, 1 assist; Heather Stephenson 12, 5 rebounds, 4 assists; Melanie Ojala 5, 4 rebounds, 4 assists; Nikki Trenary 4, 5 rebounds, 2 assists; Anne Petrosky 2, 2 assists; Margarita Perez 2; and Lisa Barber 1 rebound.

"Rogers City held Melanie to 5 points by double teaming her," explained Lehti. "But she still did a nice job breaking their press."

Grayling played Boyne City on Tuesday and will be hosting Charlevoix of Thursday, October 26.

Grayling defeated Charlevoix the first time around, 54-35, but this time they will have to deal with Charlevoix's 5 ft. 11 in. Melissa Boss, who was on the injured list when the two teams first met. Boss averages 17 points per game.

Thursday night will be Parents' Night, where the parents of each basketball player will be recognized.

JV Girls Beat Rogers City 35-20

The Grayling J.V.'s split their games last week beating Rogers City on Tuesday, 35-20, and losing to Sault Ste. Marie on Thursday, 64-25.

"The team played the best they could against an excellent team," Coach Dallas Hudson stated.

"Everyone had an opportunity to play during the game, which is important."

The Soo Blue Devils captured the lead early in the game last Thursday, October 19, scoring 26 points to Grayling's 11 during the first half. By the third quarter the Soo was leading Grayling 51-18.

Andrea Austin led her team in baskets scored with 6. Brenda Moshier had 5, Kris Welch 4, and Elissa Cox, Terri Tope, Michelle Parker, Kristel Lamie and Tara Bertalan each had 2 points.

"Andrea Austin played a super ball game," Hudson said, "both offensively and defensively."

"Kris Welch came off the injured list and scored 4 points," he said, "and we are looking forward to her support in the future."

The J. V.'s took the long ride to Rogers City on Tuesday, October 17, and outscored them 35-20.

"Elissa Cox played her best game of the season defensively and offensively," said Hudson. "She anticipated the ball well which led to several steals during the ball game." Hudson said Cox's ball handling continues to improve.

Grayling took the lead in the first quarter and led throughout the game. At half time Grayling only led by one point, 14-13, but outscored Rogers City in the second half 21 to 7.

Andrea Austin, Brenda Moshier and Kim Labo did a nice job rebounding, controlling the boards for Grayling.

Elissa Cox was high scorer with 9 points. Andrea Austin followed with 8. Brenda Moshier 7, Chinda Fedewa and Kim Labo 4, and Kris Welch 3.

The J. V.'s traveled to Boyne City on Tuesday, and will observe parents night on Thursday night, October 26, as they host Charlevoix.

REBOUNDING EFFORT -- Heather Stephenson does some of her best work under the basket. She had four rebounds and seven assists against the Soo.

Niederer, Junttila Wed

Dawn Marie Niederer and John David Junttila were united in marriage on September 9, 1989, at the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church, in Grayling.

The Reverend Dennis Paulson officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony before 300 guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Niederer and the late Donna Marie Niederer, of Grayling.

The groom is the son of Dr. Paul Junttila and Kay Ellen King, of Grayling.

Dawn was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose an off the shoulder, shirred white satin and taffeta full length gown over deep lace flounces, and wore a white waist length venise lace veil, which fell from a crown of white flowers and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations and wore her grandmother's pearl necklace.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with a white bow tie and cummerbund, and a pink carnation boutonniere.

Debbie (Niederer) St. Germain, sister of the bride, was Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Dianne (Niederer) Tobin, sister of the bride, Bonnie (McPherson) Niederer, sister-in-law of the bride, Lori (Madill) Smith and Sharon (Perry) Lynch, cousin of the bride, all of Grayling. Jessica St. Germain, neice of the bride, was flower girl. Jessica wore a full length white taffeta dress, layered with flounces of baby ruffled lace, demure puffed sleeves and a satin sash. She carried a white basket of pink roses and white carnations. The other bridal attendants wore floor length black taffeta gowns, accented with a cascade of contrasting pink ruffles with a bow and spaghetti straps. All carried bouquets of pink spider lilies, baby's breath and white miniature carnations, made by the bride and her step mother, Jan Niederer.

Scott Hamlin, of Grayling, was best man. Groomsmen were Bill Roach of Grand Rapids, Gerald St. Germain, brother-in-law of the bride, Dean Smith of Grayling, and Doug Kuhn of Detroit. The ring bearer was Isaac Tobin, nephew of the bride. All wore black tuxedos with a pink bow tie and cummerbund, and a pink carnation boutonniere.

Winnie (Junttila) Lepsy, sister of the groom, sang "The Wind Beneath My Wings". Jim Tobin, brother-in-law of the bride, gave a reading from the book of Kahlilgibran.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, and was decorated with black, white, and pink crepe paper, balloons, and balloon pillars.

Dawn and John are 1981 Grayling High School graduates. John also has studied at Central Michigan University and Kalamazoo College, and is currently employed for the State of Michigan at Camp Grayling.

After a two day trip to Traverse City, the newlyweds will reside in Grayling, with an April honeymoon to Florida planned.

FOOTBALL
Contest

1st Place Wins $50 Each Week!

Notice of Change in Contest Rules

Because we have received complaints suggesting individuals are submitting more than one football contest entry, the Avalanche is making two rule changes in our football contest:

- 1) All entries require your name printed plus your signature.
- 2) All entries must be on the official Avalanche entry form. No copies will be accepted.

These rule changes start this week. Now let the games begin again.

Clark Allen edged out Thomas Goddard for the $50 weekly prize. Both had 17 right but Allen's tiebreaker pick of 37 was closer than Goddard's pick of 30 (correct score was 38).

Coming close with 16 were Roy McIntosh, Alan Fagan, Jane Malknecht, William T. Perry, Bob Gingerich, David Svensen, Anthony Moses, and Steve Nelson.

In the overall contest 42 people are still within striking distance of the leader. With 7 weeks down and 8 to go, here are the top ten leaders: Mike McNamara 105; Heidi Mead, Mick McNamara 102; Gary Derenzy Alan Fagan, Arthur Thayer, and Marie St. Germain 99; Steven Fick, Heather Derenzy, and Corky Hellebuyck 98.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part #101 The Arrest of Jesus Christ

At the arrest of Jesus Christ, He reminds us as the good shepherd that He protects His sheep. "Then asked he them again, whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered, I have told you that I am He: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way." (John 18:7, 8). As our high priest He had to make atonement for our sins alone. (Leviticus 16:17).

By protecting His disciples He fulfilled His own saying of John 17:12, and the Old Testament prophecy of Zechariah 13:7. "Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones." "That the saying might be filled, which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none." (John 18:9).

Notice the perplexity of His sheep at His arrest. "Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus." (John 18:10). This thought was on the minds of all His disciples, (Luke 22:49). He had told them earlier that evening, "...But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one." (Luke 22:38). Certainly Jesus Christ intended His disciples be armed for defense of self and family in His absence. Our forefathers still believed that according to the 2nd amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Government is authorized as a servant of God to bear arms. (Romans 13:1-7). While Jesus taught us it is more important to be armed than to be warm, we need to know how and when to use such weapons. "Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?" (John 18:11). Physical weapons are not for spiritual warfare, they are not the weapons of the church, but of the home and state. "Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence." (John 18:36). "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but might through God to the pulling down of strongholds." (2 Cor. 10:4). Our weapon is "...the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God." (Eph. 6:17). The only approved weapon of the church for spiritual warfare is the Bible. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

Autumn leaves, after they've fallen... ants at a picnic... rain when you've wished for sun. Life is full of such tangles.

But it's how you approach them that counts. Upbeat, or downbeat?

You can rake leaves, enjoying the golden quiet of an October afternoon. You can brush aside the ants and enjoy the picnic. You can settle in with a book on a rainy afternoon.

The choice is yours—for the best things, or for the worst of things. Like worshipping in God's House... it's up to you!

Why not try the upbeat way, too?

SYNOPSIS

September 28, 1989 Regular Meeting
Crawford County Board of Commissioners

The Regular Meeting of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners convened on the 28th day of September, 1989 at 9:35 a.m. in the County Building, Grayling, MI.

Commissioners present: Kitchen, Harland, Nelson, Callawaert, Ruddy, Coy & McLachlan. Absent - none. County Clerk Elizabeth H. Wieland - present. There were 10 visitors present at various times.

IN FORMAL ACTION, COMMISSIONERS:

---Accepted the 9-12-89 minutes with minor corrections.
---Received and accepted 17 pieces of communications.
---Supported Ingham County's resolution on a Drug Free America proclaiming October 22 - 29, 1989 as Red Ribbon Week.
---Conducted a Public Hearing on Truth in Taxation. The County will lose $93,818.00 if the hearing was not held and a roll back was required.

---Executed the Secondary Road Patrol and Traffic Accident Prevention Program Contract with the Office of Criminal Justice, Dept. of Mgmt and Budget in the amount of $41,066.00.
---Authorized the Sheriff to file application for automatic weapons, at no cost to the County, through a program with the State Police.

---Granted a civilian clothing allowance for the Sheriff Dept Detective in the amount of $300.00 for 1989.

---Confirmed membership on the Crawford County Economic Development Fund Committee as follows: Roy Spangler, Terry Dickinson and Randy Thompson expires April 1991, Jeannette Kitchen, and William Ruddy expires April 1993 and John Alef II and Ron Phillips expires April 1990.

---Requested a Wetland Determination pursuant to P.A. 203 of 1972 for the County's property known as the Old DNR Field Office.

---Corrected the effective date increasing the Housing Director's salary from 9-1-89 to 3-1-89, the hire date.

---Approved payment of sick & vacation leave held in abeyance for Housing Director at current rate of pay the same as approved for other County employees under the same circumstances.

---Referred an application to the Community Corrections Advisory Board for recommendation.

---Delayed action on alternate long distance carriers until the presentation of the proposal by General Telephone Company on our present system.

---Authorized the purchase of a new printer for the Cooperative Extension Office at a cost of $50.00 to the County, as requested.
---Authorized a day off with pay drawing as an incentive for employees to participate in the United Way Program.

---Adopted budgets for several Special Revenue and Debt Service Fund Budgets for 1989.

---Appointed a task force to pursue the creation of a non-profit organization/corporation as an alternative for ambulance service. Joseph Wakely, Treasurer, representative of Elected Officials, briefed the Board on information gathered. A non-profit operation appears to be a viable alternative, which the group feels should be pursued if the Citizen's Committee comes back with this recommendation.

---Requested private ambulance services, that have expressed a desire to serve Crawford County, submit a proposal to the Board with documentation on their financial status including audits, financial statements, profit and loss statements and references for the past five years for future consideration.

---Entered into an agreement with M1 Association of Counties for a Public Phone Revenue Sharing Program for the pay phones in the County Building.

IN OTHER ACTION, COMMISSIONERS:

---Learned appreciation was expressed by the City for the cooperation received from the Sheriff's Dept in covering for the City Police during their recent training on automatic weapons.

---Ordered the Probate Court recording equipment from Bay Area Business Products, Inc. as directed by the Finance Committee, after they reviewed the estimates.

---Were informed the Ambulance deficit is down to $9,900.00 from $13,000.00. An up-date on the Citizen's Committee was given: Surveys have been drafted and submitted to surrounding counties for their input, followed by phone calls or interviews. A statement of the Committee's goals and objectives was placed on file.

---Listened to a report from Ray Swanson, a General Telephone Company Representative, on a proposal to update the phone system. Elimination of the equipment rental, control of long distance calls, cost to the County and future enhancements were reviewed. The proposal includes a fax machine as requested by Ways & Means and discussion was held on inclusion of a recorder/announcer.

---Heard brief up-dates from various committees. Full text of official minutes are on file in the Clerk's Office.

Hunting

By Joe Murphy

If you are really serious about deer hunting, there is a way you can improve your chances of killing a big buck. The last week or two of October and the first two weeks of November is the breeding season. The big bucks lose much of their caution and are moving more. That is the time to do all the scouting you can to try to locate a big buck's area. I like to see rubs on trees six or eight inches in diameter--those are the rubs of big bucks. The rubs on small trees are mostly smaller bucks.

Look for runways between feeding and bedding grounds. Deer are creatures of habit and if undisturbed seem to follow set patterns. If you see a deer at a certain place tonight you can almost bet it will be there tomorrow at the same time. During breeding season you will find a lot of ground scrapes, a buck will have several. Some he will make and never visit again, others will become his primary scrapes that he visits often during breeding season. I have never had much luck watching scrapes during rifle season but for bow hunters they can pay off.

Try to learn as much as you can of the area you're going to hunt. Find the best runways and pick the best spots to watch them from.

Knowing the area and where the big ones are hanging out can turn the odds in your favor. Remember to take the wind into your plans. Pick some spots with a change from a west wind in mind. Deer like to travel into the wind, that allows them the best use of their nose. If you are setting on a sidehill in the evening don't be surprised if deer in the valley scent you even when you have the wind in your face. That is caused by thermal air currents. Remember it is getting colder and cold air settles to lower ground.

In your scouting keep your eye out for good deer food, acorns, beechnuts, shumac and apples are all prime deer food. Those are good places to watch especially in the evening. Try to learn all you can of the deer and their habits in the area you plan to hunt.

The hard part of deer hunting is the waiting, try to stay on your stand. If you are sitting and a buck shows up you have a very good chance of killing him. If you go off wandering in the woods you may have the sight of more deer to talk about, but your chance of making a kill is slim.

While you are scouting make good use of your compass, use it to check directions of roads and trails. Get your hunting area mapped out in your mind. If you know the area pretty good there is not much chance of you getting lost.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The muskrat (Onychia zibethicus) is the most valuable fur bearer in North America, as well as its most widely spread mammal.

Beaver may have been the impetus for initial exploration of the continent, but the overall value of muskrat is much higher at present.

Found anywhere there is water, even in urban areas, muskrats are primarily vegetarians, preferring such plant life as cattails. They are also known to eat mussels, snails and other invertebrates as well as carrion.

Active at any season or hour, muskrats can be seen swimming in ponds, lakes and rivers, trailing their scaly, laterally flattened tail. Their houses are elaborate structures, rising 2 or 3 feet above the water, made of cut vegetation, with one or more underwater entrances. Inside are feeding platforms which double as nurseries for the 2 or 3 litters of young, which consist of 5 to 7, and up to 11, individuals.

The most common thought which comes to mind when the economic value of muskrats is mentioned, concerns their value as fur bearers. With more than 10 million trapped annually, this is easy to understand. I can recall muskrat pelt prices which have varied from $3 - $8 each, varying according to the laws of supply and demand.

Another aspect of the economic value of muskrats concerns their penchant for burrowing into dikes, earthen dams and similar structures. In fact, when I was stationed in the Thumb area, I responded to many more damage complaints caused by muskrats than I do here for beaver.

Muskrats are often eaten, supplying another source of income for trappers. I remember eating them one time at a dinner given by the Algonac Sportsman's Club. It was my first taste of this rodent and I did enjoy it, until I got a hold of one from which the viscera had not been removed. But that is another story.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

If you haven't taken the time to take a walk, it is high time you did. The conditions are near perfect for a stroll in some of the finest fall colors and fragrances you will ever find. Remember what it was like to scuff through the leaves of fall when you were a kid? Why not do it today. It doesn't matter what path you choose, but I rather hope you come out to the land of the Tall Timber as we have some nice trails.

Maybe you've only a short time to spend and you don't want any hills, the Mertz Grade Foot Trail would be a good choice. Not only is this trail virtually flat, but there are some of the finest fall color anywhere. The Mertz traverses a variety of different habitats, has a self guiding trail folder available at the office and is only a little over an hours walking time long.

If you desire a little more challenge, take the AuSable River Foot Trail. Its three miles ranges through and up over a variety of landscape and crosses the East Branch of the AuSable twice. The self guiding folder will provide a reason to stop now and again while you walk the three miles.

Don't forget the Virgin Pines Trail has a self guiding folder, is only a trifle over a mile long and has a hard surface. There are some dandy places to set down to watch the leaves drift down and the squirrels at work. Isn't it time to revisit special places or maybe find a new one?

Poet's Corner The Lost Father

The father of my only son,
he cannot be found nowhere,
His old life seems to be done,
for he's not here, he's just there.

So often my son asks me, "why?"
"Oh, where can my father be?"
with each word, I'd like to die,
but I can't, for all he has is me.

He seems so lost, and insecure,
the touch of a man, he does need.
That trait I lack, I am sure,
I don't have it, and so his heart bleeds.

He misses his daddy, so much,
and I try to replace all I can.
But, I can't replace that touch...
The touch of his dad: The man!

Miss Claudette Stocker

A Look At Our Past

28 YEARS AGO
October 20, 1968
Miss Marilyn Joseph and Mr. Bruce Feldhauser were crowned the 1968 G.H.S. Homecoming Queen and King respectively. Both were high school seniors and were selected by students in the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Miss Joseph was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph and Mr. Feldhauser was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Feldhauser.

Eddie Robertson, a former G.H.S. athlete, started as end on the Alma College football team. The 6 ft., 185-pound sophomore at Alma was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Robertson of Grayling.

Mrs. David Kelly of Grayling found more reading material than she bargained for when she borrowed a book from the Crawford County Library. While reading the volume she came across a meeting notice for the Grayling Woman's Club for February 9, 1932 (thirty-four years prior). She was most pleasantly surprised to find it and the notice was given to the Woman's Club to put into their scrapbook with a notation on the unique way that it found its way back into their hands.

General construction bids for AuSagra Acres, Grayling's planned public housing for the elderly and low income units, were opened at a meeting of the Grayling Housing Commission at the Grayling City Hall on Monday, October 17.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph Stripe announced that the Frederic and Grayling elementary schools and St. Mary's Elementary School would be participating in a student-centered traffic safety program. Designated as the Green Pennant Safety Program, the effort was aimed at making every student of every school conscious of the need for traffic safety, and provided recognition to those schools with outstanding traffic safety performances.

The program, in effect 24 hours a day, seven days a week, was sponsored by Scheer Motors and the Crawford County Avalanche.

48 YEARS AGO
October 21, 1943
On a field covered with snow and with flakes falling continuously throughout the game, Grayling High School remained undefeated in downing an improved Mancelona eleven 20-0 last Saturday. Considering the condition of the field, which was marked by twine on the sidelines and goal lines only. Grayling played one of their best games in conquering a stubborn Mancelona team.

Since our last issue we have passed through a short but definite young winter. At 7 o'clock Saturday morning the ground was bare and within the next 15 minutes, in spite of the warm earth, it was white with snow. By noon the snow was about 2 inches deep. The storm continued most of the time for the next two days and by Monday morning it was definitely a foot deep with snow and in some parts of the county it was reported several inches deeper. Temperatures were only slightly below freezing and on Monday afternoon there was a light rain. The snow gradually melted away but even now there are small patches in places. In discussing the storm with some of our older residents, they were of the opinion that Saturday and Sunday's were the heaviest for this time of year within their memories.

George Schalbe has been appointed by the Army as chief ground observer at the Hanson Military reservation and Clarence Johnson for the Army airfield.

Floyd McClain and Frank Schmidt, who are employed in Detroit, spent the weekend with their families here. They were accompanied by Frank Woodruff, who was making the rounds calling on old friends.

69 YEARS AGO
October 21, 1920
Neal Matthews and Frank Cochran made a business trip to Rose City, Tuesday, and when about 8 miles from here on their return home their Ford refused to go so it

County Fair Association Needs Help Developing Fairgrounds

In 1980 a small group of local residents meeting in the basement of the county building established the Crawford County Fair Association. The Association is governed by a Board of 17 or less directors who are elected each October during the annual meeting. Any resident or land owner in Crawford County is eligible to be elected as a director of the Fair Board. Any person can be a member of the Fair Association for an annual fee of $5.

The purpose of the Fair Association is to provide an annual showcase for the public display and recognition of talent, commerce and enterprise of every variety and at every age level to be found in Crawford County.

In 1985 the Fair Association acquired a permanent location consisting of approximately 47 acres of land near the high school on Old 27 North. Since then, the Fair Board has been committed to developing the property into a year-round recreational resource for the use and benefit of the citizens of this county, through the cooperation of the Crawford County 4-H program, local service organizations, private individuals and local business.

To date, the Fair Association has been entirely self-supporting. The money we have available to produce the fair each year and to use to develop the grounds comes from these sources: the $1 admission fee charged during the fair; sale of advertising in the annual premium book; a percentage of carnival profits; and contributions of money, materials, and services.

The Fair Association is a non-profit, tax-deductible corporation. Developing raw acreage the size of the fairgrounds into a first-class, year-round facility that everyone can use and enjoy is a big job. We need your help. Please join us at our annual meeting October 29 in the Crawford County Courthouse basement at 7 p.m.
